MASTER OF GEOSCIENCE GRADUATE / ENTRY-LEVEL GEOLOGIST

AREAS OF EMPHASIS – DATA ANALYSIS, MAGNETIC MEASURING EQUIPMENT, MAPPING

Master of Geoscience Graduate from the University of Texas at Dallas seeking an entry-level Geology position. Looking to leverage training and education that included coursework in Sedimentology and Stratigraphy, Hydrogeology, Field Geology, Basin Analysis, Applied Geophysics, and more. Well-developed skills working in laboratory environments, using magnetic measuring equipment, cutting and analyzing samples, and using Microsoft Excel to analyze data. Dedicated leader with excellent communication, time management, and problem-solving skills.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Core Sample Analysis
Thermal Cycling
Working in a Laboratory

Microsoft Excel & Data Analysis
Applied Geophysics
Field Geology

Magnetic Measuring Equipment
Map Interpretation
Cross-section Construction

EDUCATION & ADDITIONAL TRAINING

UNIVERSITY OF PHOENIX, Phoenix, AZ
Master of Science Degree in Geoscience, 2017
Bachelor of Science Degree in Geoscience, 2016

Member of Delta Epsilon Iota Honor Society; Recipient of an Academic Excellence Scholarship

Relevant Coursework

Data Analysis for Geoscientists | Sedimentology and Stratigraphy | Hydrogeology | Natural Resources
Field Geology | Structural Geology | Basin Analysis | Applied Geophysics

BROOKHAVEN COLLEGE Farmers Branch, TX
Introduction to Petra Software Seminar, July 2014

GEOLOGY RELATED RESEARCH & EXPERIENCE

ABC COMPANY, Dallas, TX

August 2014 – April 2015

Research Project – Paleomagnetism Laboratory

- Tested the magnetic susceptibility of rock samples versus temperature (thermal cycling) to understand the magnetic properties of volcanic rocks.
- Worked under the supervision and guidance of Dr. John Geissman.

XYZ COMPANY, Phoenix, AZ

October 2011 – March 2013

Laboratory Assistant – Paleomagnetism Laboratory

- Marked and measured core samples and analyzed magnetic properties.
- Cut and analyzed samples.
- Learned how to operate magnetic measuring equipment.
- Worked under the supervision and guidance of Dr. John Geissman.

ADDITIONAL EXPERIENCE

ABC COMPANY, Richardson, TX

August 2014 – June 2017

Preschool Manager

- Managed the daily operations of a preschool with 90 enrolled students.
